

VIDEO CONFERENCE AND MEETING SERVICES AVAILABLE AT WESSEX HOUSE

In partnership with New Media Software we are delighted to now offer video conferencing as part of our conference and meeting services.

Video conferencing can be used to hold meetings, to carry out interviews, for training. Files and data can be shared, making it easy to hold presentations and review documents.

Using video conferencing can bring advantages and cost savings to your business. It can reduce cost of travel, save time, reduce your carbon footprint, increase productivity and even strengthen staff morale by providing a better work-life balance.

The facilities at Wessex House are available anytime on a pay as you go basis, for either a half day or full day at a time. They are easy to book, through reception, and in house technical support is provided by New Media Software.

If you would like to find out more and see a live demo, Phill McGowan, of New Media Software, will be running sessions on Wednesday morning 6 October from 10.30am.
